

Let's Build Pakistan Together By Educating the Underprivileged

"Pakistan is proud of her youth, particularly the students, who are nation builders of tomorrow. They must fully equip themselves by discipline, education, and training for the arduous task lying ahead of them"

-Quaid-e-Azam

Quaid-i-Azam was not only a historic figure, he had a gifted personality which left a deep impact on everyone. He was sincere, honest and truthful. We know that Quaid-i-Azam worked relentlessly day and night, along with his team, and earned for us this independent state which we call our home and should be proud of it as it is our identity. On this day we pay homage to the man who devoted his life to make Pakistan a reality.

It is not only us, Pakistanis, who acknowledge his hard work and shower praise on him. World leaders have spoken highly of him, not only during his life but paid great tributes after his death too.

We learn from Quaid how to speak the truth and always stick by your decisions. He has also taught us that it is our duty to look after the poor and help them out in their time of need. He said a nation can never prosper if the youth is not provided with education. When one has the light of knowledge by means of education then only one can make themselves strong economically and socially. This way a person will always be prepared for the growth of the nation.

Quaid-i-Azam was praised by all, friends, and foes alike. The best way to show our love and gratitude for him is to try to adopt some of his personality and character traits in our day to day life.

Adopt a student, Educate him/her, Give him/her a bright future and let the legacy of Quaid-e-Azam shine

A Step Closer To Becoming An Engineer

Shahzeb Khan
UET, Lahore

It was years back when Shahzeb lost his father, but to this day, his mother's crying face has been etched in his family. As if the emotional loss wasn't enough, Shahzeb's father was the sole bread earner for the family.

After he passed away, his pension, as a former teacher was barely enough to buy meals for the whole family of now five. The mother- a housewife did the best she could and gave her children the confidence and motivation that they would need to move ahead in life.

Shahzeb had a desire to be an engineer, as he wanted to contribute to the development of the country. His biggest strength was his perseverance and in all these years nothing could come in between him and his dream of becoming an engineer.

PEF always supported students with such resilience, so how could they ignore Shahzeb? With an outstanding intermediate result, Shahzeb didn't have to worry about his higher studies. Due to PEF's scholarship, he would be able to complete his civil engineering degree and fulfill his dream.

Would you like to join PEF's efforts in changing a deserving student's and his family's life?

You want to help out but don't know what to give, consider sponsoring a student for a year or even for a month. Your contributions will ensure that your sponsored student has everything they need to gain the best quality education.
